Helping people to live in the community

Large House in Thorne One Bed Vacancy

Supported Living for adults aged 18+

Based in the thriving town of Thorne, South Yorkshire, Wildwinds is a large property with five bedrooms. Wildwinds provides support for adults with a range of disabilities including autism, learning disabilities, mental health conditions and complex needs.

We currently have a vacancy on the ground floor suitable for either a male or female. The service is ideal for someone who wants support to live independently in the community, with a personalised, proactive support package. The individual could also benefit from elements of specialist support from our wider team, including but not limited to: Speech and Language Therapist (SALT), Occupational Therapist, Positive Behaviour Support and Clinical Care.

The vacancy is has its own private bathroom, communal facilities include two sitting rooms, a dining room and a modern kitchen. The property has a spacious rear garden and off-road parking.

Wildwinds is situated within walking distance of the town centre with its range of amenities including supermarkets, doctor's surgery, pharmacy, hair salons, and cafes. Thorne also benefits from an excellent transport system including rail, buses and taxis.

Autism Plus work across the North of England supporting adults and young people with autism, learning disabilities, mental health conditions and complex needs.
